Copenhagen Photo Festival er stolte af at kunne præsentere en række større danske og udenlandske udstillinger inden for kunstfotografi, presse- og dokumentarfotografi. Selve Photo City ligger i Carlsberg Byen, som bliver forvandlet til en summende fotoby i festivalperioden, med bogsalg, workshops, omvisninger og artist talks på vores Photo Stage foruden de mange udstillinger.

Den Censurerede Udstilling på Halmlagerets første sal er en unik mulighed for at opleve internationale tendenser i samtidsfotografiet, repræsenteret af 40 talentfulde nye og etablerede kunstnere fra i alt 11 lande. I Halmlagerets stueetage præsenterer fotojournalist Benita Marcussen sin dokumentariske udstilling Men & Dolls, som har fået stor international bevågenhed, og det nye online FiftyFifty.Gallery viser et udvalg af galleriets kunstnere.

Dansk og udenlandsk kunstfotografi indtager Slottet. Finske Markus Henttonen viser udvalg fra serien Twisted Tales – Road to Hope, norske Tonje Bøe Birkeland præsenterer storladne landskabsbilleder, og gruppeudstillingen Peripheral Vision med Sam Derounian, Desmond Church, Lotte Fløe Christensen og Ditte Knus Tønnesen udfordrer fotografiet og dets grænser.

I Matrix sætter vi fokus på festivalens borgerinddragende fotoprojekter, som er blevet til i samarbejde med Nordea-fonden. For andet år i træk viser vi de bedste indsendte musikfotos på udstillingen Picture the Music, der efterfølgende tager på landsturne. Udstillingen Efterbilleder viser de bedste elevbilleder fra festivalens nye undervisningsportal for fotografi og dugfriske billeder fra festivalens workshop for børn og unge.

I år har festivalens Photo City en satellit i Øksnehallen med fokus på Norden. Her kan man se udstillingen Søren Rønholt med udvalgte værker fra det aktuelle bogprojekt The Nordic Book side om side med Inuit Now – Lasse Bak Mejlvang & Dennis Lehmanns udstilling af forholdet mellem by og bygd i et moderne Grønland, som vises for første gang i Danmark.

Copenhagen Photo Festival is proud to present a range of exhibitions by Danish and international fine art, press, and documentary photographers. Several locations in the Carlsberg City District will be transformed into the buzzing Photo City during the festival; as well as the exhibitions themselves, here you will find workshops, guided tours, artist talks on the Photo Stage, and book sales.

The Censored Exhibition at Halmlageret is a unique opportunity to experience examples of international contemporary photography – with contributions by 40 talented new, emerging, and established artists from 11 different countries. Acclaimed photo journalist Benita Marcussen's exhibition Men and Dolls will run at Halmlageret alongside a presentation by online FiftyFifty.Gallery of their represented artists.

Danish and international fine art photography will take over Slottet during the festival. Finnish artist Markus Henttonen will display a selection of images from his series Twisted Tales – Road to Hope. Norwegian artist Tonje Bøe Birkeland will present us with her grandiose landscape images, and group exhibition Peripheral Vision – which will include work by artists Sam Derounian, Desmond Church, Lotte Fløe Christensen and Ditte Knus Tønnesen – will challenge the limitations of the photographic medium.

In the Matrix location, you will find photo projects that all involve the general public in some way; these projects were all made possible in collaboration with Nordea-fonden. The projects will include a second edition of Picture the Music, an open call exhibition in which people are invited to submit photographs relating to music. The best submissions will be selected and shown at the festival, after which they will go on a national tour. The exhibition Efterbilleder will showcase pictures taken by students and uploaded via our new online educational photo portal, as well as images freshly produced during the festival's workshop for kids and young people.

This year's Photo City will have a satellite location at Øksnehallen, focussing on the theme of 'The North'. You will be able to experience Søren Rønholt's selected works from the recently published book project The Nordic Book alongside the Danish premiere of Lasse Bak Mejlvang & Dennis Lehmann's exhibition Inuit Now – investigating the relationship between town and village life in modern day Greenland.
